

STASIUM XII — Crosshaven dungeons

Design and build plan · 5 Oct 2026

Status: Old Granary Cellar design approved (“Wow love it”). The other four designs wait for your approval. Building has not started. Every build step is shown to you in pictures and waits for your OK.

Town	Levels	Dungeon	Monsters	Boss	Floor glow	Design
Stoneford	1-10	Old Granary Cellar	Granary Rat, Scarecrow Drudge	The Ratking	amber wheat pads	Approved
Northgate	10-20	Frostspire Archive	Ice Construct, Book Wraith	The Pale Archivist	ice-blue rune pads	Waiting
Eastmarch	20-30	Saltmaw Grotto	Reef Crab, Drowned Sailor	Old Saltmaw	teal coral pads	Waiting
Southbridge	30-40 (danger)	Drowned Abbey	Bog Dead, Mire Leech	The Mire Abbess	green candle runes	Waiting
Westwatch	40-50 (danger)	Heart of the Blight	Blight Hound, Blight Horror	The Rotting Elder	violet pulse pads	Waiting

Each dungeon has 4 pictures: the entrance in town with its Door Keeper, room A (the pack fight), room B (the boss fight), and the monster sheet. Every dungeon floor glows in its own colour (Wakfu dungeon look).

Stoneford • Old Granary Cellar (levels 1-10) — APPROVED

An old granary with a cellar hatch, stairs going down into a warm glow, a rat sign, and the hooded Door Keeper with a ring of keys. Room A: a stone cellar of sacks and barrels with glowing wheat pads, where crates and sacks block tiles. Room B: the Ratking's throne of burst sacks and bones around a glowing drain grate. Monsters: the Granary Rat, the Scarecrow Drudge and the Ratking (boss).

Entrance + Door Keeper

Room A — pack fight

Room B — boss fight

Monsters

Northgate · Frostspire Archive (levels 10-20)

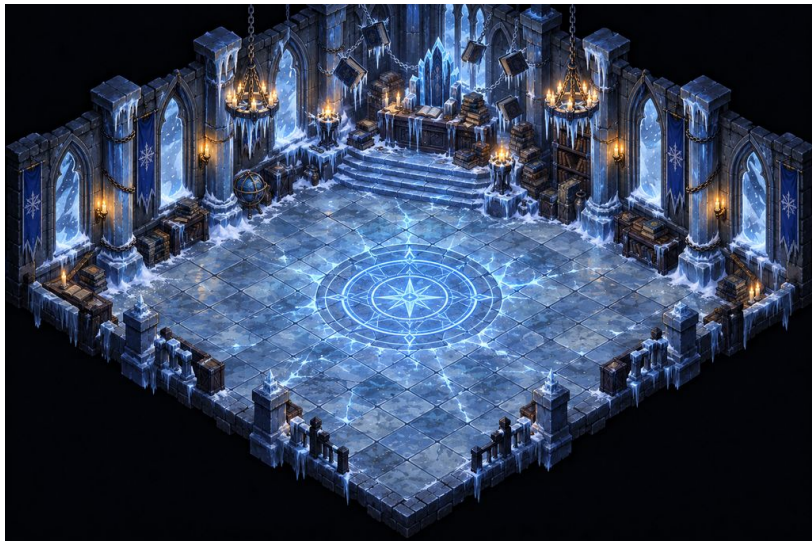

A snowy library tower in the square, with blue light behind its open door and a fur-cloaked Door Keeper. Room A: a frozen library with ice crystals. Room B: a blue rune circle, a frozen throne-desk and floating chained books. Monsters: the Ice Construct, the Book Wraith and the Pale Archivist (boss).

Entrance + Door Keeper

Room A — pack fight

Room B — boss fight

Monsters

Eastmarch · Saltmaw Grotto (levels 20-30)

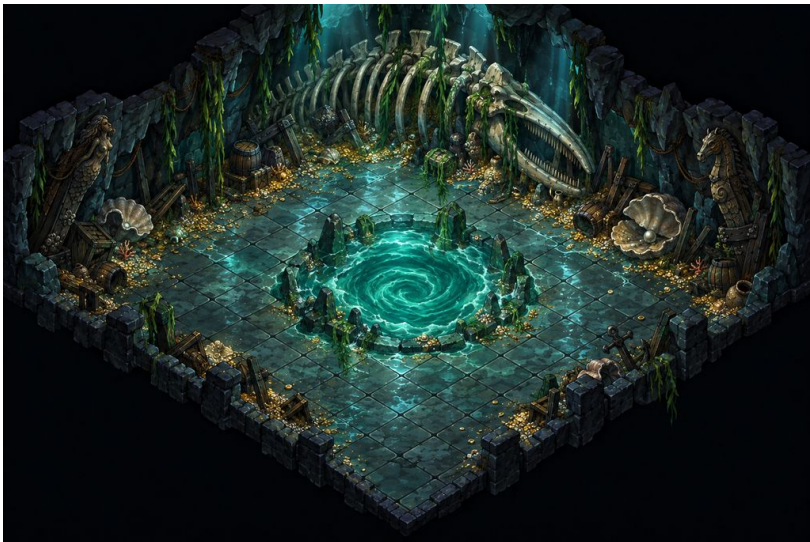

A sea cave on the beach shaped like a fish's jaw, with a plank walkway leading into teal light. Room A: tide pools, shipwreck parts and glowing coral. Room B: a glowing whirlpool under a whale skeleton. Monsters: the Reef Crab, the Drowned Sailor and Old Saltmaw (boss).

Entrance + Door Keeper

Room A — pack fight

Room B — boss fight

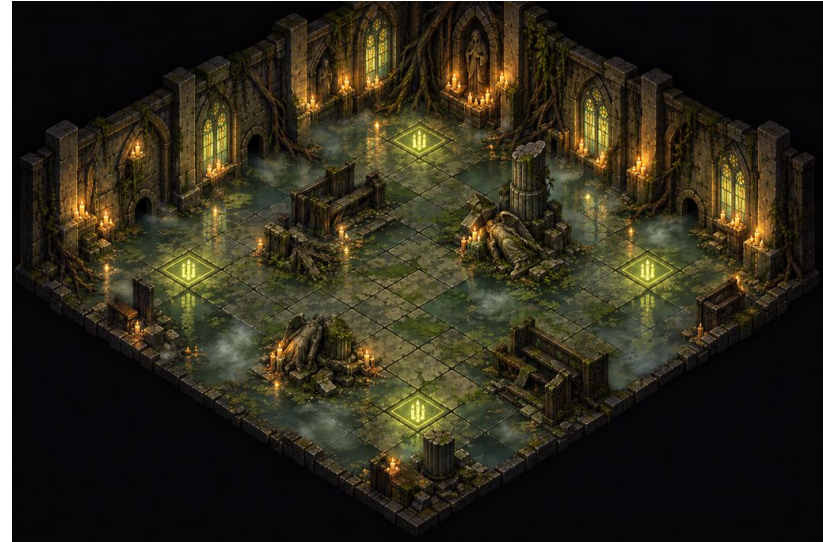

Monsters

Southbridge · Drowned Abbey (levels 30-40, danger zone)

A half-sunken abbey in a foggy swamp, with green light inside and a boardwalk out to it. Room A: a flooded nave with toppled statues and candles. Room B: a sunken chapel with a green rose window, a fallen bell and floating coffins. Monsters: the Bog Dead, the Mire Leech and the Mire Abbess (boss).

Entrance + Door Keeper

Room A — pack fight

Room B — boss fight

Monsters

Westwatch · Heart of the Blight (levels 40-50, end game)

A giant rotten stump outside the town walls whose roots form a violet-lit tunnel, guarded by a barricade and an armoured Door Keeper.
Room A: a maze of roots with violet veins and crystals. Room B: a pulsing violet heart woven into the roots. Monsters: the Blight Hound, the Blight Horror and the Rotting Elder (boss).

Entrance + Door Keeper

Room A — pack fight

Room B — boss fight

Monsters

How the designs go into the game

The paintings are the look we match. The game needs the floor, walls, props and characters as separate pieces so the grid, depth and clicks work, so every piece is repainted in Scenario to match the approved picture.

1. The door in town

- The entrance is one painted building sprite in the town style, on a fixed spot in the town.
- The hatch or door is clickable and glows on hover. The Door Keeper (one of our 19 painted NPCs) stands next to it.
- Clicking it or talking to him opens a panel: name, levels, 1–4 players, Enter. The level check is shown there.

2. The rooms are combat boards

- Dungeon fights use the same turn-based combat as the arena: same grid, moves, spells and turns. Each room is a new map for it.
- Painted per dungeon: floor tiles, props that block tiles (crates, sacks, statues, roots), the glowing pads as special tiles, and a painted wall backdrop around the board.
- Room A is a pack fight against 2–4 monsters. Room B is the boss.

3. The monsters

- Painted animations (idle, walk, attack, hit, death in 4 directions), made the same way as our 5 heroes.
- Simple fight logic: walk up to you and attack. Each boss has a signature move (the Ratking calls rats).
- Stats fit the dungeon's level band.

4. A full run

- Enter, win room A, win room B (the boss), get coins and items through the existing reward system, return to town. Missions to clear the dungeon count the win.

Build order — you see pictures and confirm each step

1. The Stoneford granary door and Door Keeper in the game (stills).
2. Old Granary room A as a real combat board (still).
3. The 3 Granary monsters animated on that board (clip).
4. A full playable run: room A → boss → rewards → back to town (clip), then merge and a new Windows build.
5. The other four dungeons the same way, once their designs are approved.

Rules: PC only, never main or mobile; all 35 PC test suites pass before any merge; every decision is logged. The team copy of this plan is in the repo at docs/pc/look_target/dungeons/DUNGEON_PLAN.md (branch claude/pc-zones-spec).